

HÅG Minu

Looks like home. Works like HÅG .

Why HÅG Minu?

In 2017 Flokk executed a market study. The Essence project revealed strong demand for smaller, simpler, high-quality ergonomic chairs for home and workplace use.

The pandemic accelerated this need as home working increased.

Post-pandemic, many continue working from home, while companies upgrade offices to feel more like home.

HÅG Minu - Designed by Andreas Engesvik

HÅG Minu is designed by Andreas Engesvik for Flokk's HÅG brand.

Andreas Engesvik and Jannicke Grung designed a compact chair for home use, offering a warm and simple aesthetic.

The design reflects Engesvik's focus on form, materiality, and the connection between domestic and professional spaces.

HÅG Minu - Designed for a different way of sitting

A compact ergonomic chair

Created for the modern home “office” use, it blends comfort and functionality with a warm, contemporary expression for shorter, flexible-use scenarios.

Features HÅG inBalance® movement, bringing active sitting and posture support rarely found in this seating category.

With fully upholstered seat and back, a sculptural die-cast aluminium base, and a choice of fresh colours and fabrics, HÅG Minu brings ergonomic innovation into the home environment.
